

DUKE INSISTS ON PUBLIC WEDDING

Queen Mother Mary Urged to Clear Up Problem Confronting Nation In Coming Marriage.

MONTS, France, May 13.—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor was said today by a close associate to be insisting, with the backing of the royal family, that the British government permit his wedding to Mrs. Wallis Warfield to be public and that it bestow its approval on his bride by officially recognizing her as "Duchess of Windsor."

The duke discussed the situation with Queen Mother Mary by telephone and urged the beloved Mary to try and clear up the problem.

It was deadlocked government and royal family.

"Mother, we can all be happy once more," he was said to have told her. "If Queen Mary and King George VI can bring the government around to approving the marriage."

His insistence, which had the approval of the queen mother and King George VI, brought into the open the difference between the House of Windsor and the cabinet over the forthcoming nuptials.

The cabinet has taken the stand that the marriage should be strictly private and not be attended by any member of the royal family except as a private person.

The government may even demand a religious service if the duke persists in his demand for a public wedding.

This, one source said, would necessitate finding an Anglican minister to officiate, despite the Church of England's opposition to Edward's marriage to the former Mrs. Simpson.

Edward, meanwhile, was described by his friend and spokesman, Herman L. Rogers, as very happy the coronation of his brother yesterday had gone so smoothly.

Rogers, commenting on the celebration which the duke staged in honor of the coronation, declared: "All of us had a swell time last night."

Cause of Postponement

The government's insistence against attendance of any member of the House of Windsor at former King Edward's wedding was said to have been the direct cause of the duke's postponing of the ceremony until June.

The move was made, friends said, at the request of his brother and newly crowned successor, King George VI, who is leading the fight for formal recognition of the romance which caused Edward to renounce the throne.

Edward was understood to have talked by telephone last night, both with George and their younger brother, the Duke of Kent, whom Windsor wants to be his best man.

The stately Queen Mother Mary was said to feel Britain owed its former king a public celebration of his wedding.

Edward's long services to the empire as Prince of Wales and his place as a former ruler were said to be the weapons George was bringing to bear on the cabinet in a fight to secure the recognition the duke desires through the presence of members of his family.

Windsor may have made some suggestions in his conversation with his monarch last night, but the most important phases of the problem have been handled only through trusted couriers.

Windsor feted the coronation of his brother into the morning hours today after a special dinner party at the Chateau de Candé where he and Mrs. Warfield are guests.

THE PRESIDENT IN TOWN

NEW PICTURE OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT FROM HIS FISHING TRIP.

President Roosevelt was expected to be in Terre Haute at 3:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon, en route from the Gulf of Mexico to Washington. Governor Townsend and some state officials were en route to Terre Haute to meet the train here.

PRESIDENT SPEEDS BACK TO CAPITAL STUDY POSSIBLE EXPLOSION CLUE

Special Train Carrying Chief Executive Passes Through Terre Haute Thursday Afternoon.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 13.—(AP)—Governor M. Clifford Townsend and Omer S. Jackson, democratic state chairman, went to Terre Haute early this afternoon to ride back here with President Roosevelt, en route to Washington after a vacation trip.

The presidential train was due to arrive here about 4:30 p. m. and will be here only long enough to change engines. Word here was that the president would not make a platform appearance while the train is at the Union station.

James A. Farley, postmaster general, was to join the president when he arrived here. Farley came here from Washington and was a luncheon guest of Dick Heller, secretary to Governor Townsend.

The president's brief stop here was his first visit to Indianapolis since the last campaign.

His special train, after running through an electrical storm in Texas and Oklahoma last night, rolled across Missouri on a route that included St. Louis, Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Pittsburgh.

It was due in Washington tomorrow morning.

The president was accompanied by his sons, James and Elliott, the latter's wife and their little daughter, Ruth Chandler Roosevelt. Also in the party was Mrs. Eloise Polk, Fort Worth, former school chum of Mrs. Roosevelt. They are to be guests at the White House for several days.

Bits of Broken Propeller Engage Attention of Board Investigating Hindenburg Disaster.

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 13.—(AP)—Bits of a broken propeller, found inside the twisted wreckage of the dirigible Hindenburg, held the attention of federal investigators today as they studied the theory that a shattered blade sent the airship to her doom a week ago tonight with the loss of 35 lives.

One group among the commerce department's board of inquiry and its staff of aeronautical experts speculated that if one of the ship's 16 propeller blades snapped off as she maneuvered for mooring, it might have sheered into the silvery envelope and smashed into electric wires or otherwise caused a spark to explode the hydrogen.

The investigators planned to call a wood expert to match the pieces and find from which propeller they came. They found the wooden fragments during a 24-hour inspection of the wreckage yesterday after the second day of testimony by eye-witnesses to the disaster.

Other members of the inquiry board gave this theory less credence, holding that the propeller might have broken when the Zeppelin fell.

The board agreed, however, again to study photographs in an attempt to learn whether the propellers were intact as the Hindenburg fluttered to the ground.

First indication that the board considered this theory came when its members questioned a naval officer on whether "a large piece of wood" might have caused the "cracking" sound he heard before the explosion.

Lieut. Benjamin May, who witnessed the catastrophe from the top of the mooring mast, said "the first thing I saw and heard was the crack of the metal structure and I

ADEQUATE FUNDS VOTED FOR NEEDY

House Appropriations Committee Approves $1,500,000,000 Bill For Nation's Work Relief.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—The House appropriations committee voted today to report favorably a $1,500,000,000 work relief bill, standing by the president's request for "adequate" funds for the needy and overriding an economy attempt to cut the program by one-third.

The bill will be brought up in the House for action next week.

It was announced the committee voted 23 to 14 for the $1,500,000,000 appropriation.

At the same time the committee voted 20 to 16 to direct the WPA to utilize the fund over the twelve months period so that there would be no necessity of asking for a deficiency measure next session.

The committee disapproved a motion by Rep. William B. Umstead (dem., N. C.) to make the fund $1,250,000,000. The vote was 20 to 15.

The amendment to the bill designed to keep the administration from coming back for additional funds next session was drafted by Rep. Clifford A. Woodrum (dem., Va.), leader in the fight for a $500,000,000 cut.

The relief measure was submitted to the House accompanied by forecasts of WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins and Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace that federal relief for the distressed of city and farm has become a permanent problem.

Even return of full prosperity, they said, would not fully clear relief rolls of the idle needy.

Leaders predicted its passage intact, despite various republican and insurgent democratic bloc efforts to reduce the funds, increase them or amend the measure to turn relief administration back to the states.

The House began consideration today of the $115,000,000 interior department supply bill, which carries $7,000,000 for public construction projects of work giving type.

Hopkins Urges Full Amount

Testimony before the house appropriating committee, made public today, revealed that Hopkins urged that the full $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation be provided. He indicated, however, that even so unless private industry takes more than 500,000 persons off of relief rolls in the next few months, additional funds may be required later.

Hopkins estimated that an average of 1,730,000 could be provided with relief jobs during the next fiscal year under the $1,500,000,000 program. At present he said 2,235,000 are on the rolls.

The full committee's support for the president's $1,500,000,000 fund today came after a sub-committee had voted five to four to cut the amount one-third. The sub-committee, headed by Rep. Clifford Woodrum, (dem., Va.), was overridden after administration leaders put pressure on the committee, composed of 23 democrats and 11 republicans, to vote with the White House.

Hopkins characterized relief aid as a possibly permanent federal obligation, predicting that between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 persons were likely to remain idle even with a full return of prosperity.

WPA plans for spending the $1,500,000,000, Hopkins said, call for $75,000,000 to be allocated to the resettlement administration for rehabilitation loans and grants to needy farm families.

PRESIDENT WAVES AT DEPOT CROWD

Governor Townsend and State Chairman Jackson Board Train
to Greet Executive.

In spite of the secrecy with which President Roosevelt's trip from the Gulf of Mexico to Washington was shrouded between 800 and 1,000 men and women were on hand to greet the presidential special train when it pulled into the Union station here Thursday afternoon.

The crowd was disappointed however when the president failed to make a platform appearance and merely peered through a window in the rear car and waved and smiled a "good-bye" as the train left the station.

Men and women began to assemble at the station two hours before the train arrived and when the special finally came a good sized crowd gathered at the observation car and set up a call "We want the president," but their requests for an appearance of the chief executive were in vain.

Governor M. Clifford Townsend of Indiana and Omer Stokes Jackson, democratic state chairman, boarded the presidential special here to make the trip from this city to Indianapolis with the president. Gov. Townsend and Mr. Jackson motored to this city and were entertained by Frank Mayr, Jr., former secretary of state and now affiliated with the Merchants Distilling Company, until the arrival of the presidential special.

President Roosevelt, attired in a lightweight summer suit, appeared tanned and refreshed by his fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico which ended just a few days ago. The typical Roosevelt smile was much in evidence as the chief executive waved through the window to the crowd as his train left the station.

At Indianapolis the president was joined by Postmaster General James A. Farley. Reports that Farley would motor to Terre Haute with Gov. Townsend to join the president failed to materialize.

defeated for renomination next spring.

So he told the United Press last night shortly before he boarded President Roosevelt's train to ride into Washington.

"I have the very definite impression," Farley said, "that Van Nuys will not be renominated by Indiana democrats."

"Are you making any suggestions or taking part in the selection of the man to defeat Van Nuys?" Farley was asked.

"No, that is entirely a state matter," Farley said, "and I will not interfere in the least."

Gov. M. Clifford Townsend and Omer Stokes Jackson, state democratic chairman and attorney general, boarded the president's train at Terre Haute and rode with him to Indianapolis. Neither had any statement to make, but presumably they discussed the attitude of Indiana voters on current questions.

Farley was the guest of Dick Heller, Townsend's patronage secretary, at lunch at noon where the only others present were Bowman Elder and Frank McHale, intimate advisers of both Townsend and former Gov. Paul V. McNutt, and Ambrose O'Connell, Farley's executive assistant.

Later they were joined by R. Earl Peters, former state chairman and present Indiana federal housing administrator, and Mayor John Kern of Indianapolis, both of whom have been mentioned as one of two candidates to succeed Van Nuys. Another is Sam Jackson, Fort Wayne lawyer.

Kern, it was learned, is well aware of his possibilities. On the Union station platform here he was heard to say to Farley: "There has been some talk in the newspapers about my running for some office other than mayor next year, but—" and then someone interrupted the conversation.

Asked later by the United Press what his exact intentions were regarding running for Senate, Kern said: "I haven't anything to say."

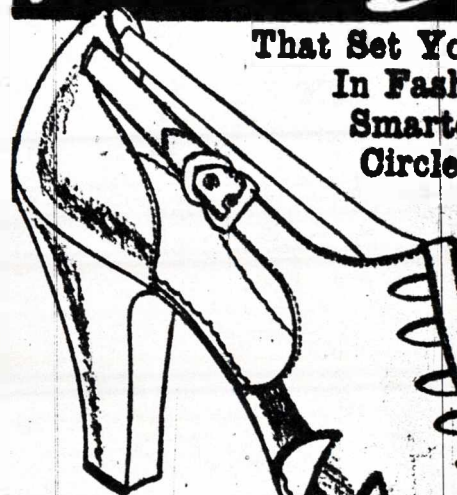

When President Roosevelt arrived, those who boarded the train and chatted with him briefly were Heller, Elder, McHale, Kern and Dan Tobin, president of the International Teamsters Union.

Farley also was asked if his visits to Indiana, coupled with the president's trip to the state, had any particular significance. Hastily he asserted that he was dedicating post offices on his trip two weeks ago, that this time he had to meet Mr. Roosevelt to discuss congressional affairs and that the president merely was on his way back to the

CROWD WELCOMES ROOSEVELT HERE

Colonel too Hoarse to Speak, But Shakes Hands With as Many as Possible.

1,500 AT BIG FOUR STATION TO SEE FORMER PRESIDENT

Speaking Engagements in Illinois Called Off, Owing to Condition of Presidential Candidate's Throat.

Crowding and pushing for an opportunity to grasp the hand of Colonel Roosevelt, when it was learned he was too hoarse to make a talk, as many as possible of the 1,500 people present at the Big Four station shortly before noon Tuesday greeted the chief bull moose as No. 11 through flyer stopped for a few minutes in Terre Haute.

Looking tanned and sturdy the strenuous colonel seemed good for lots of hard work and had a hearty handshake for all who could come within reach. He acted as general director of the occasion, keeping the crowd on the move all of the time so that all possible could meet him.

"Get out of the road for that little girl there! Move on! Don't stand about, let someone else have a chance," were samples of the directions he kept hoarsely speaking to the crowd as men, women and children joined in a wild jam for the steps of his car in the middle of the train.

On account of the condition of his throat, Colonel Roosevelt was obliged to give up his speaking tour through southern Illinois which had been planned for him Tuesday enroute to St. Louis. Frank H. Funk, of Bloomington, Ill., progressive leaders, boarded the colonel's train at Indianapolis and informed him that they had engaged a special train for him which was waiting at Terre Haute. He was expected to speak at Paris, Mattoon, Pana, Shelbyville and Hillsboro. The colonel said that he would not undertake the trip but would speak at Mattoon, where his train stopped, without boarding the special.

Receives Big Bouquet.

While at the Terre Haute station, Roosevelt raised a big bouquet of flowers, the gift of a woman in the crowd, eliciting cheers which continued until the train moved away.

For one small lad there was no joy in the coming of the former president.

Burned Their Bridges Behind Them and Will Support Third Party Ticket.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 3.—At an enthusiastic meeting of Monroe county progressives here Joseph H. Campbell of this city, chairman of the Second district progressive party organization, made an address, in which he declared that he had been misrepresented in regard to his statement relative to his supporting the republican county ticket. He said that he had been accredited by an Indianapolis paper with the statement that he would support the republican county ticket.

Mr. Campbell said today: "My remarks were evidently misconstrued, for I am for the bull moose ticket from top to bottom. I want to go on record here today and make it plain to all my friends in the county and elsewhere that I am not a double-crosser, and if any man on the republican county ticket wants me to vote for him he will have to resign and get a place on the bull moose ticket to be put out next Saturday. I do not want my friends to have the impression that I am lukewarm in this fight."

"I have burned my bridges behind me and am no longer a member of the republican party and stand here today pledged to support and work for the entire bull moose ticket."

Mr. Campbell was loudly cheered at the conclusion of his remarks. The progressives selected thirteen delegates to the congressional convention to be held at Worthington next Tuesday and the same number to the representative convention to be held here next Saturday. They also selected delegates to the judicial convention, the date of which has not been fixed. While the bull moose were in session the republicans were holding a meeting to select congressional delegates to the convention at Washington next Wednesday and to the judicial and legislative conventions, the time and places of which have not been fixed.

NAME COMPLETE TICKET.

Peru Progressives Will Give Voters Chance for Expression.

PERU, Ind., Sept. 3.—The progressive party of Miami county had an enthusiastic convention in the Wallace theatre and an entire ticket was nominated after several spirited contests. A. C. Bearss, for many years a republican leader in county and district politics, served as permanent chairman, and W. A. Woodring, one of the editors of the Peru Journal, was chosen secretary. The other nominees are Guy R. York, prosecutor; Lee Fisher, treasurer; William Wykle, sheriff; H. O. White, coroner; F. N. Hamman, surveyor; W. H. Lemaster and William Grimes, commissioners. The Rev. William E. Shafer, a minister of Bunker Hill, who is a candidate for congress in the Eleventh district on the progressive ticket, was chairman of the resolutions committee. Roosevelt, Beveridge and Fred Landis and the other progressive candidates were indorsed, as were also the national and state platforms.

Dr. E. D. Thixton, whose office is in the Swope block, is lying in the Union hospital with a dislocated hip and severe bruises, the result of an auto accident below the city Sunday evening. Dr. Thixton was driving towards Terre Haute from Fairbanks at about thirty or forty miles an hour and started to run to one side to pass a buggy which swung suddenly back into the middle of the road. To avoid running into it he turned the machine into a ditch and jumped when it seemed about to turn turtle. After lying unconscious for half an hour, during which time the unidentified driver of the buggy disappeared, the doctor managed to crawl into the car and drive to Prairieton, where he secured help to take him to the hospital. He was joined later by his wife and two children, who were visiting in Sullivan.

CUMMINS FOR T. R.

Is Not, However, in Favor of a Third Party.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Sept. 3.—Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa in a public statement issued today declared that he expects to vote for Col. Roosevelt for president but is opposed to the formation of a third party. He does not believe that President Taft was the choice of the republicans of the nation.

"The renomination of President Taft," said Senator Cummins, "was opposed by an overwhelming majority of the republicans throughout the county simply because in his administration he had not done nor said the things which the great body of the people believed he should have done and said. A meager majority succeeded in renominating him.

"I would like to support a republican candidate for president. There is but one way however to make sure that the system of the Chicago convention will be abolished and that is to make it plain that the candidate who is the product of the system and the beneficiary of the methods cannot reach the office to which he aspires.
Therefore I cannot support Mr. Taft.

"Theodore Roosevelt was the manifest choice of the greater number of republicans who expressed a choice for president, but I fear the new party will retard rather than hasten reform. My vote for him will indicate that I believe he desires to promote the common welfare, but will not indicate that I look upon the new party as a wise or enduring movement in public affairs."

passed through here Monday on his way to Muncie, Ind., where he has been employed as supervisor of physical training in the public schools since last January.

Mr. Markle spent the summer months supervising physical work in the Lincoln playgrounds at Chicago.

The young future presidential timber was selling Roosevelt watch fobs, but joined in the rush for the car. Caught in the center of the crowding crowd a number of his fobs were lost and trampled under foot. Sobbing bitterly he tried to get down and search for them and would have been crushed had not a newspaper man paused to pick him up. As the ex-president's train was leaving the city the lad stood, tears still trickling down his face, and looking at the depleted card board said,
"An' I'll have to pay for everyone of em."

The colonel had no time to give any interview to the press. When approached he said "We're all right" and

Crowds Gather Early.

Progressives of two states, including scores of women, began to gather at the depot before 10 o'clock to greet Roosevelt, who was scheduled to arrive in this city at 10 o'clock to take a special train for St. Louis. Delay of the special car bearing the chief of the bull moosers from the east, however, caused No. 11, which was to bear him to this city, to be late and there was a murmur of disappointment over the crowd when the train was marked up
"11:50."

Hundreds of men and women had gathered before the time for the arrival of the presidential candidate. Prominent among the visitors was the delegation of Paris, Ill., progressives who will board the special in this city. The committee consists of Dr. D. W. Young, president of the Paris progressive club;
Rev. W. W. Sniff of the Christian church, U. G. Stuart, D. D. Houston
and Dr. E. E. Jones.

Accompanying the delegation was E.
F. Royce, of Danville, Ill., progressive candidate for congress against Uncle Joe Cannon. Others from Danville were E. E. Bainbridge, Dr. W. H. Stevens, chairman of the Verrillion county progressives, and S. B. Longstreth.

Officials of the local progressive party and reception committee did not arrive at the station, having learned of the delay of the T. R. train.

Among those present in the crowd were Ellsworth Lawrence, of the Terre Haute Casket company; Rev. W. W.
Rippetoe, W. W. Archibald, of the city schools; Rev. Albert E. Menger and Attorney Frank A. Kelley. A number of the men from the recruiting station were also at the depot.

Colored professional men of Terre Haute gathered in a body to see the big bull moose. Among them were Rev. W. D. Shannon, Rev. W. H. Snow-
den, Rev. D. C. Canty, D. A. Bethes, M. D., Rev. E. B. Moody, S. Powell and sister, Miss Golda Powell.

A rushing business in the sale of the red bandanas was indulged in by hunting agents and a Louis Johnson view of the crowd would have resembled a serious conflagration.

The special train will be made up in this city and Roosevelt will make several addresses in Illinois, enroute for St. Louis.

The crowd was estimated at from one thousand to fifteen hundred people.
The crowd supposed that Roosevelt would appear on the rear platform.
However his car was in the middle of the train and when the Pullman doors opened and the colonel appeared on the platform, there was a rush from the vicinity of the depot up the tracks
in the direction of Center street crossing.

Crowd a Surprise.

A special train had been made up here and was waiting on the side track. Frank Funk decided that there would not be time to make the change and the Roosevelt party remained on the regular train and went right through. Funk explained:
"We're late now, and we cannot disappoint the people in St. Louis. If I had known that there is this much Roosevelt enthusiasm in Terre Haute,

I would have arranged for a speaking here. This is a surprise."

The turnout was of a character to encourage the Roosevelt supporters.
There had been no formal arrangements, but the number of people who made their way from down town at the noon hour to greet Roosevelt indicated to some extent the following of the bull moose in this section.

Colonel Roosevelt appeared in the best of spirits. He wore a gray sack suit and a blue silk scarf. The famous hat that he cast in the ring evidently had been left inside. He is tanned a nut brown. The colonel appeared to have just finished an engagement with his barber and was slicked up nicely for his Terre Haute reception. He glanced out over the crowd, evidently calculating if he would have time for a speech, but the jar of a fresh engine being hitched onto the train evidently decided the question in the negative for him, and he worked hard and fast to shake what hands he could. A cheer followed the colonel as the train rolled out for the west.

Says Trip Has Convinced Him of Growth of New Party.

MUNCIE, Ind., Sept. 3.—"We're to win this fight" said Col. Roosevelt today. The opening of his month's trip yesterday, he said, he regarded as significant, in view of the demonstrations which marked his journey through Connecticut and Massachusetts. He had been told, he said, that in Connecticut there was little enthusiasm for the progressive party, but he believed his reception in that state showed that the party was receiving a good deal of support there.

Col. Roosevelt passed through Muncie
this morning and was due in St.
Louis at 3 p. m. After a stay of a few hours in St. Louis he leaves for St.
Paul. He was glad of the opportunity for a rest during the greater part of the day, as his tour followed up closely his hard campaign in Vermont that he had no time to recuperate. He made several speeches in the rain yesterday,
and last night was tired and hoarse.
Members of his party were fearful that his voice would give away under the strain, but this morning the colonel was in better trim. He brought with him from New York a tank of oxygen to be used in treating his throat.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S VISIT A GALA DAY

College Dedication Exercises
Turned Into General Reception
For Wife of President.

Anna Bowles Wiley.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, (Mrs. Franklin D.), had "Her Day" in Terre Haute Saturday. Arriving before 11 o'clock to be here for her talk on the dedication program of the Student Union Building and the Fine Arts and Commerce Building of Indiana State Teachers College, she had her chauffeur drive straight from the train to State College, where she inspected the two new buildings for herself, which she proclaimed as beautiful and most adequate ones, and of which she declared that the state of Indiana and the people of Terre Haute should be justly proud.

After carefully looking over the floors of the Student Union Building and looking at the art galleries of the Fine Arts Building, as well as other departments, completely making the tour the First Lady of the Land, who certainly proved herself, just that, graciously giving every minute of her time in Terre Haute to Terre Haute people.

Mrs. Roosevelt had asked before coming that her time, which might be devoted to herself here, be a quiet one, in which she could write her newspaper column, "My Day."

"Instead, she made it Terre Haute Day, for throngs met her at the hotel. They followed her activities about, anxious to see her, a woman who needed no introduction, not as President Roosevelt's wife, nor as the fine public speaker, logician and a woman active beyond any other who has been known as the First Lady, in all administrations.

She was cheered as she entered the hotel, where she held a press conference, as well as when she entered the Student Union Building for the afternoon program, by men, women and children, besides the huge crowd that filled the auditorium at State to hear her speak.

After she had visited State in the morning, she drove to the home of President Ralph N. Tiley to meet and chat with the man whose inspiring genius and concentrated effort brought about the erection of the two new buildings and in whose pride she was most sympathetic.

Mrs. Tiley accompanied Mrs.

Roosevelt back to the hotel" and she met not alone the members of the press, but also greeted the representation of the Vigo County Democratic Women's club, and of the Young Democrat club, who presented her with a magnificent bouquet of gardenias, surrounding a large cluster of purple orchids. Pictures were struck of the gathering of press and citizens and chatting graciously Mrs. Roosevelt made herself acquainted with all those present.

Scouts On Hand.

Four Eagle Scouts from different troops, Lawrence Herz Joseph and James Herz Joseph, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Joseph, of South Center street, and James F. Reed, along with Gerhard Nellians were greeted by Mrs. Roosevelt, who declared herself fond of both Girl and Boy Scouts. They shook hands with her and secured a small interview for their Scout newspaper.

Needless to say these young men were thrilled to meet the First Lady, and overjoyed that they had their part of "Her Day."

Assembled in the long corridor from her suite in the Terre Haute House were a number of young boys and grownups who wished a glimpse, and Mrs. Roosevelt shook hands with all of them and greeted them.

This line reminded one of that line of constituents who have found through the aid of senators and congressmen as well as friends at court a chance to shake hands with presidents in other years in Washington and was quite as affective.

Following this conference, at which this gracious lady seemed unhurried, her party was approached about luncheon. To the surprise of all, Mrs. Roosevelt, instead of having the luncheon arranged for her at the Terre Haute House, expressed a desire to visit the N. Y. A. Experimental House on North Sixth street, where boys who are living in this house coming from all parts of Indiana and attending classes at the college.

Here she ate her luncheon, which consisted, as an entree, a fine, fluffy omelet, made by the young men. Now, were they proud that they might prepare the luncheon for Mrs. Roosevelt and her party. They certainly were.

These 40 young men are working this experiment through the National Youths Administration with Robert S. Rickey as state director of the N. Y. A., Indianapolis.

The boys sent a huge bouquet of roses, beautiful ones to her room in the hotel for Mrs. Roosevelt. Indeed her room was a bower of blossoms, many of them orchids from different organizations and friends.

Dr. Hazel Tesh Pfennig was in her room to greet Mrs. Roosevelt as Dr. Pfennig had the privilege of introducing her on the platform to her audience in gracious words.

There was no small courtesy Terre Haute people overlooked Mrs. Roosevelt's entire visit.

After leaving the hotel for N. Y. A. House, she bowed and smiled to all on whom her eyes fell in her departure.

Mrs. Roosevelt Spends a Jolly Week End In Terre Haute — Came College Dedication, But Admiring Friends Make It a Rollicking Jubilee

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in her suite at the Terre Haute House Saturday afternoon, where she held open house to exultant crowds. Her plans for a quiet afternoon went all awry. She received Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and curious citizens generally and finally decided her newspaper column would have to be done some other time. Each new delegation brought its tribute of flowers and an extra room had to be provided for these.

The jubilee started at the Union station and then as her car started to the hotel and to the college, citizens, men, women and children trotted along behind to give the first lady a cheer and a greeting. In the reception group—John Sembover, public relations for the Indiana State Teachers College; Mrs. Ralph N. Tiley, wife of the president of the college, who officiated for her husband who is ill, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

When she reached the Student Union Building, she was approached by Charles R. Steindl, character artist, who drew a fine sketch of her, which she was pleased with and autographed, smilingly. The stage was adorned with great containers of spring flowers, red and white and varying shades of rose from the college greenhouses. Dr. Pfennig declared it presumptuous to even tell over the achievements of Mrs. Roosevelt, but he hailed her as a woman most interested in the American youth and their very good friend.

conversation regarding the problems of youth, became a little gloomy, Mrs. Roosevelt senior arose and declared she was going to bed as all the things they had been discussing she would perhaps never live to meet.

Mrs. Roosevelt believes that youth itself is going to meet their own problems, eventually. She referred to their present stress of wanting to get married, and can't, wanting a job and have none, wanting to get started to live, wanting to have a good time, and so much interfered and she cited the fact that "we have a responsibility in helping these young people with anything helpful in solving their problems.

"One thing, they do not all of them have the preparation and at the end they find this out, frequently I found this out, this lack of preparations as a member of the National Board of Youth Administration. I heard some one on that board say that a great deal of the education today is valueless, and suggested special schools of education.

Education of Youth.

Mrs. Roosevelt stated that there are many who can not go to specialty schools, but must depend on the public schools, and that there is a great deal more to education, however, than being ready to take a job.

"We know today also, that education is deeply concerned in making life more livable for youth. Education is rounded out by recreation, through which one may develop a great many avocations, but she pointed that many communities have no recreational facilities to offer youth in their leisure time. This situation many times advances juvenile delinquency. I believe that every community should do something about this and communities will find they must work together and should develop a sense of responsibility and get together and solve their youth problem.

Where a new machine is invented that takes men from their jobs, something must be invented that will give them jobs."

She referred in her talk to the visit of King George last June, of his avid interest in his inspection of the CCC camps. He asked her what the government is doing for young people here, and told of the camps which England was establishing all over, camps in which the king remarked there were boys who had never seen their fathers do a day's work and who therefore could not understand their responsibilities, because those families had always been on the dole.

"I told him we had no such a situation and the king seemed quite concerned about that situation. He was interested greatly in what the United States is doing, and with his queen we visited the CCC camps, where King George really inspected.

"In fact, I have never seen any one so closely inspect as he did, for he interviewed every fifth man lined up for his approval, asked them about their health, about their food, their comforts, the kind of work they did, and the queen queried every third boy. The king went back for the second round, a thing I had never seen anyone do on inspection.

"He visited their mess halls, having to tramp across rough fields to reach them, but when told that the boys had their mess halls in preparation for his visit, he had said, 'well, if they are expecting us we must go,' and walked all the way over, and on arrival looked into pots and kettles and pans on the cook stove, to see what they were preparing, felt the mattresses to see what kind of beds and looked at the beds and under them to see what sort of boots the boys were given to walk in.

36 PERSONS DIE WHEN HARD RAIN FLOODS TOWNS

Residents of Western Pennsylvania Are Victims of Sudden Storm.

WATER DAMAGES PROPERTY AND SWEEPS AWAY BODIES

Small Streams Become Raging Torrents and Tie Up Railroads.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 2.—As a result of heavy rains last night and today throughout West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio, 36 are dead and others missing. Added to the list of fatalities late tonight, are 14 foreigners at Colliers, W. Va., bringing the list there up to 18; three at Burgettstown, Pa., bringing the list there up to four and one at Woodstown, Pa., near this city. In addition, others are reported missing.

Help is on the way and has arrived at some points, but the actual extent of the disaster cannot be estimated before daylight tomorrow. From meagre reports tonight it is believed the monetary damage will reach close to $1,000,000.

During the night this city experienced the storm. The suburbs suffered severely, cellars were flooded, street cars crippled and wire service prostrated. In a number of western Pennsylvania points, people became panic stricken. At New Castle, Pa., churches were dismissed by ministers when announcements were made that a flood was headed for the town.

At Ford City, Pa., a dozen houses were washed from their foundations. Lightning struck a score of houses, while McKechna, a suburb, is under from three to five feet of water tonight.

The Pittsburgh team of the National League en route from Cincinnati to this city to play two games with the Chicago team, was unable to reach the city until late tonight. Both games were postponed until it was announced that the players of the Chicago team were disappointed.

Searching Parties at Work. Reports from Colliers, W. Va., are that some persons have been drowned and there are many more missing, but the exact loss of life cannot be ascertained until after the searching parties along the valley of Hannon's Creek have completed their work.

The storm came after a day of unseasonable heat and burst with little warning. Rain fell in torrents, small streams became raging torrents, and many persons went away and lives lost.

SUFFRAGISTS OF OHIO ARE VERY CONFIDENT

Leaders Believe They Will Win Victory at Special Constitutional Election Today.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Whether Ohio women will be given the right to vote will be determined tomorrow at the special election at which 48 amendments to the constitution framed at the recent convention will be accepted or rejected.

Should suffrage be adopted by the voters, the women of the state will have won a victory which has been years in the making. If the amendment is defeated and if the initiative and referendum amendment is ratified, suffragists will be able to initiate an equal suffrage amendment to the constitution and again place "votes for women" before the voters of the state for adoption.

Suffragists are confident that equal suffrage will be ratified tomorrow and anti-suffragists claim equal confidence that it will be defeated.

FEDERAL BUSINESS STOPS FOR LABOR DAY VACATION

Department Heads All Leave Washington and Watchmen Constitute Uncle Sam's Entire Force.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(Special.)—There was a headless government today in Washington. The whole government machinery is running itself. Not a single cabinet official is "on the job." With President Taft at Beverly and every department head on a vacation, federal business stopped today in observance of Labor Day. Even Postmaster-General Hitchcock, the only department head here since Congress adjourned, deserted Washington yesterday.

Fifty thousand government employees with $2,500,000 paid in advance salaries yesterday also enjoyed the Labor Day vacation. From secretaries to charwomen, government business was at a complete standstill. A few building watchmen composed Uncle Sam's entire force today.

STRIKERS WRECK RAILROAD TO STOP COAL SHIPMENT

West Virginia Miners Take the Problem and Destroy Tracks to Block Shipment.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Striking miners today tore up the railroad tracks above Elk Dam, on Cabin Creek, in an effort to stop the shipment of coal from the mines at the upper end of the creek, that are operating. A company of militia was sent to the scene and after driving the strikers off, the soldiers set about repairing the track.

While this work was going on the strikers attacked the road bed several miles away, and another company was

FOLLOWERS PLAN TO GREET TEDDY AT DEPOT TODAY

Progressives Will Gather at Big Four at 10 O'Clock This Morning.

CHAIRMAN ISSUES CALL FOR MEETING WITH LEE

Announces Conference of County Committeemen and Workers Tonight.

Terre Haute Progressive leaders are planning to give former President Theodore Roosevelt a rousing reception at 10:40 o'clock this morning when his train arrives at the Big Four station en route to St. Louis. That a large crowd will be at the station to obtain a glimpse of Colonel Roosevelt is assured.

Word was received last night that Progressive party managers had engaged a special train to carry Colonel Roosevelt through Illinois today to enable him to deliver a number of speeches from the rear-end of his car on his way to St. Louis. The special train will be waiting for Colonel Roosevelt at Terre Haute when he arrives. Colonel Roosevelt will deliver brief speeches at Paris, Mattoon, Pann, Shelbyville and Hillsboro.

George N. Cordell, county chairman of the Progressive party, issued a call last night for a meeting of the county committee tonight at the headquarters of the Roosevelt Club. The call was issued in compliance with a request from State Chairman Edwin M. Lee, who will arrive in Terre Haute this afternoon, in an attempt to straighten out the Vigo County situation regarding a county ticket.

The meeting also will mark the first gathering of county chairmen of the Fifth Congressional District, and it is expected that considerable attention will be paid to planning the campaign in this district. District Chairman W. H. Crouch of Greensburg will preside at the meeting of county chairmen.

It is understood that when Chairman Lee, who will meet with the county committee tonight, will request the county committeemen to reconsider their former action in refusing to put a county ticket in the field. Friends of the movement to name a county ticket are enthusiastic over the outlook, many of them predicting that the ticket will have the endorsement of the county committee, and most of the Progressives see a harmonious settlement of the question.
